INSURANCE NOTICE

The Superintendent of Insurance of the Province of Alberta, wishes to announce and stress that The Home Insurance Company of New York, maintaining a branch office in the Canada Life Building in City of Calgary, Province of Alberta, is in no way connected with, affected by or concerned with the liquidation of Home Assurance Company of Canada.

The Home Insurance Company of New York is duly licensed to carry on the business of insurance within the Province of Alberta, the said Company is in good standing and their annual reports indicate a sound and strong financial position.

Due to numerous inquiries received by this department, it is apparent that some confusion exists in the minds of the public and policy holders, caused no doubt by the similarity in names and policy holders of The Home Insurance Company of New York who may have received a notice from any Board or Corporation from which that policy-holder concluded that The Home Insurance Company of New York is in liquidation, is hereby requested to entirely disregard such notice.

Appropriate measures are being taken to correct the confusion which apparently has arisen in the minds of the public and the policy-holders. In the meantime the Superintendent of Insurance feels impelled to make this announcement so that it may be definitely understood by the public and the policy-holders of the Home Insurance Company of New York that policies in The Home Insurance Company of New York are in no way affected by the events relative to Home Assurance Company of Canada.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"We should not be leaving so many development projects on the shelf as we have been doing as a backlog for a possible trade and employment recession here or elsewhere in the world", declared Agriculture Minister Gardiner, putting his hat in the ring as a candidate for the Liberal party leadership and making it clear what he will do if he does get the post.

"It's quite possible that we shall control cancer before we find a cure for it" forecast Lord Horder, physician in ordinary to the King, during a visit here.

"Canada is definitely one of our primary markets", stated W. J. Cusack, Field Engineer of the Anthracite Institute of U.S., painting a bright picture of what coal Canadians can expect to get from U.S. in face of rumors about shortages.

"No user of Pennsylvania anthracite is going to freeze", he emphasized.

"The ultimate proof of a nation's fundamental quality in science lies in the market-place of ideas", said Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, President, National Research Council of Canada.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

Stories heard along Parliament Hill claims that Canada may be in for a very grave butter shortage next winter and spring unless immediate steps are taken by the authorities especially to guard against black markets and other evils.

The first important move under Section 12 of National Housing Act providing federal aid in the clearance, replanning, rehabilitation and modernization of slum areas or blighted or substandard areas has been taken in the large municipal subsidized housing project in Toronto where a maximum grant of $1,150,000 has been made. A six-block slum area is involved and new apartments will provide 1,956 housing units.

There is no confirmation whatsoever in this capital about outside reports that the Chinese Embassy in Ottawa has been asked to look into charges that Canada discriminates against Chinese immigration.

More than 200 women from every section of Canada will attend as delegates to the National Liberal Convention meeting here in August it is learned.

Descendants of a tribe of Indians who roamed and lived in Canada's Capital many years ago have held a get-together complete with tom toms and war paint at the Ottawa Indian Ceremonial staged by the Michigan Indian Foundation at Harbor Springs Michigan.

The Military attaché from Soviet Russia was not included in the group of foreign military attaches invited to visit the Valcartier Military Camp in Quebec and the explanation for it heard here is that Russia has denied such privileges to Canada in Soviet Russia.

Though wholesale sales in Canada are reported here as showing signs of a decline lately because retailers are hesitant in stocking up in fear of a buyer's resistance to high prices yet Canadian department stores increased the dollar volume of their sales by 22.7% in June this year compared with June of last year according to the latest official report.

Canadian Pacific Airlines has granted permission for regular passenger and cargo flights on the two trans-Pacific routes shown in above map, adding a total of 11,420 route miles to Canada's international air services. Now on order for the routes are pressurized four-engined Canadian planes, with a capacity of 40 passengers and three tons of cargo mail or express. They will be manned by experienced trans-ocean C.P.A. pilots - Canadian Pacific inaugurated wartime transatlantic bomber delivery flights in 1940 and many of its pilots later flew four years with the Ferry Command and have since returned to the company. Operational and servicing headquarters will be at Vancouver with C.P.A.'s domestic overhaul work, now being carried out there, being transferred to Edmonton. Canadian Pacific, experienced in trans-Pacific travel since 1936 already has an extensive traffic organization in the countries the new flights will serve, which places it in a position to start operations with a minimum of delay and with no wasteful expenditure of Canadian dollars abroad. Regular flights will probably start by next summer; it is felt an early start is essential if the Dominion's position in the field of international air transport, is to be developed and maintained. From Vancouver to Sydney, by way of Honolulu, Canton Island and Fiji is 7,865 miles and the Great Circle route, Vancouver-Kodiak-Shemya Island-Tokyo-Shanghai-Hong Kong is 6,555 miles. New Zealand will be served with a branch service joining the through Vancouver-Sydney route at Fiji.
